Benefits of Baobab

Baobab Leaf Tea is harvested from wild baobab trees in the African Savanna. The beloved Baobab, known as the Tree of Life, has been cherished by communities for centuries.

Baobab Fruit is the most antioxidant-rich fruit known to man. It improves digestive health and immune function, and supports healthful sugar balance.

Baobab is a nutrient powerhouse, naturally bursting with fiber, essential minerals, electrolytes and antioxidants. It is prebiotic, low glycemic, anti-inflammatory and improves skin elasticity. These elements are key to meet current demand for Nutraceuticals, Functional Foods (foods containing health-promoting additives) and Cosmeceuticals (cosmetics with medicinal properties, especially anti-aging).

Its high fiber is an excellent prebiotic, it has twice as many antioxidants as Acai or Goji Berries and is loaded with electrolytes. In addition, it's gluten-free, highly alkalizing and low glycemic.
